HICKMAN MILLS JROTC GIVEN PRESTIGIOUS HONOR

The Hickman Mills High School Marine Corps JROTC program has been selected as a Naval Honor School by the Department of the Navy. Out of the 230 Marine Corps JROTC programs nationwide, Hickman Mills High School's program was one of only 47 programs selected for this honor.

The honor is based on several factors, including participation in student government and school activities, academics and academic awards, the performance of the unit's Drill Team and Rifle Team and community service. Last year, the Hickman Mills JROTC logged more than 5,000 hours of community service, volunteering for numerous local, regional and neighborhood projects.

The Marine Corps JROTC program is under the Department of the Navy. The Department recognizes both Navy and Marine Corps JROTC programs with this prestigious award.
