C-1 EDUCATOR SELECTED TO PRESENT AT NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Doris Sandefur, special education teacher at Ervin Middle School, was chosen to be a presenter at the 37th Annual National Alliance of Black School Educators (NABSE) Conference Nov. 18-22 in Indianapolis, Ind. Her topic: Response to Intervention: What's Involved with Meeting the Needs of Students with Disabilities? Nearly 100 educators submitted topic proposals—only 40 were selected.

This year's theme for the conference is "Education is a Civil Right." Several national educational experts will speak to the gathering, including the Rev. Jesse Jackson and Secretary of Education Arne Duncan. Sandefur makes her presentation Thursday, Nov. 19 at the Indianapolis Convention Center.

"This opportunity will allow me to share, learn and network with other educators and create fellowship with school administrators, school board members, parents and volunteers from across the country," Sandefur said.
